

Never See You

When you smiled and took my hand
And when you said there is no question

And you kindly thanked me
I knew then
That I would never see you again

Why did I refuse to listen?
When I heard the early warning

I can fly and ride around the bend
Cause I would never see you again

Though someday...some way
I may try

Now there's such a wealth of time
And all the days have no division

Makes me kind of sorry in the end
That I would never see you again
No I would never see you again
