

Been Standing

Been standing...waiting for the time
When you stop, telling me ooh so much lies
And you know, how I tried, how I desired
So I'm, leaving, with my heart so tired

So tired of being lonely
When I'm standing next to you
How I pine for your affection
But it's time you knew

So tired of standing still
When the world is moving fast
How did you ever think?
That this could last

Others...they say they're doing fine
But I'm not, so happy without that line
Yet I know that in time
I'll keep on dreaming
So my worried mind
Would soon be leaving

So tired of being lonely
When I'm standing next to you
How I pine for your affection
But it's time you knew

So tired of standing still
When the world is moving fast
How did you ever think?
That this could last
